Rebel booters playoff-bound

The Telstar boys' soccer team will take on Yarmouth Saturday in the opening round of the Western Maine Class B playoffs. The game will be played at Telstar, beginning at 11 a.m.

The Rebel booters completed the regular season with an 11-2-1 record, their best since the program was established 10 years ago.

Coach Bob Remington thinks this year's team has the depth and maturity to take it all the way to the championship.

"We can play a lot of people without weakening the team," he said, and he noted that this year's team has a high proportion of upperclassmen. "That maturity is important in a game like soccer," he said, "because it provides the stamina players need to keep running for two 40-minute halves."

Last year, a younger Rebel team put together a 7-2 record before losing to Lincoln Academy, 6-1, in the first round of the playoffs.

Most of those players are back, but so is Lincoln, which is undefeated this year.

If the Rebels get by Yarmouth, next Wednesday they will face the winner of the Lincoln-Weston League game.

Hockey team beats Yarmouth—semi-final game Saturday

Down 2-0 to a tough visiting Yarmouth team Tuesday afternoon, the Telstar girls' field hockey squad roared back to a 4-2 victory that earned them a spot in the Western Maine Class C semifinals.

The Rebels will play Diligo Saturday in Dixfield. Diligo were 3-1 victors over Sacopec in other Tuesday afternoon quarterfinal action.

Elton Hastings scored two goals for the Rebels in Tuesday's victory, while Vanessa Cooper and Mary Beth Hutchinson each had one.

The Rebels kept up good offensive pressure early in the first half, but excellent work by Clipper goalie Kelly Hodgman kept them off the board while the Clippers were building a formidable two goal advantage.

But the constant attacks of the Rebel front line eventually wore the visitors down.

Not long after Vanessa Cooper's goal off a penalty corner had cut the Clippers' lead in half, the Rebels started a drive from back near their own goal. Smart passing and sharp stick handling pushed the ball up the field to the Clippers' right corner, where Cooper again fielded it, this time firing a centering pass to Hastings, who hit home the tying score.

Two second half goals following penalty shots and strong goal tending by the Rebels' Mindy Robinson locked up the victory.

Coach Kelly Scott praised her players for hanging tough in the face of Yarmouth's early lead.

"Yarmouth is an excellent team with top skills and balance," she said, "but our seniors really wanted this one."

Bethel Inn plans recreation center

The Bethel Inn plans to construct a 2200-foot recreation center to the left of the main inn building, on the edge of the golf course.

Half the center will consist of a pool, which will be enclosed. The actual building will be 92x40 feet, and will contain fitness rooms, jacuzzis, changing rooms, etc.

The plan was presented to the Board of Selectmen at their regular meeting Monday night. Inn officials were seeking a sewer tie-in permit.

The boarders of the inn are seeking information on the project. The selectmen did, however, grant permission to the Inn management to put up a stub on the Broad Street sewer while it is exposed, to facilitate later tie-in of the recreation center. (The sewer is being dug up in order to allow replacement of over 700 feet of Broad Street sewer main. The work is being done at the expense of The Inn in exchange for permission to hook up to the sewer the 40 condo units under construction.)

Stock market tumble unnoticed by bank stock

While financial markets worldwide were set spinning by the New York Stock Market's precipitous free-fall of 500 points Monday, the only publicly traded local company weathered the storm with unruffled feathers.

Bethel Bancorp. started the day at 14 1/4 and finished the day at the same level. The price of the stock has remained quite constant since it went up 50 percent after being issued during the summer. Bethel Bancorp. is the parent company of the Bethel Savings Bank.

GOAL! Telstar's Ricky Roy scored on a corner kick in the second period of last week's game against Gould Academy. The Rebels went on to edge their crosstown rivals, 3-2. The Gould defenders gathered around the net as goalie Stuart Newell, Alfie Baker, John Chase, John Kilbourn, Derrick Marsbury and Brent Bloomberg. Telstar players partly hidden are Gary Williamson and Jimmy Merrill. The Rebels, who finished fourth in Class B, with an 11-2-1 record, face Yarmouth Saturday in a post-season playoff game.

Planning Board OK's two new subdivisions

The Bethel Planning Board, at its meeting last Wednesday night, approved the final plans of two new subdivisions.

The Bear River subdivision, on the Middle Intervale Road near the Carter Farm, was approved, as was the Wheeler Subdivision, off Skillings Road near Songo Pond. The latter consists of 13 lots, while the former consists of five lots.

New candidates found for police chief position

The Bethel Board of Selectmen and the Bethel Town Manager have been going through formerly rejected resumes, as well as some recent applications, in order to find new candidates to interview for the job of police chief. The position has been vacant since Bob Stearns retired in June.

Town Manager Rodney Lynch said he hoped the board will be able to renew the interviewing process early next month. The candidate offered the job two weeks ago turned it down, telling town officials his wife was unable to make the move because of her job. Town officials would not disclose what salary they had offered the candidate, who is a police officer in Palm Beach.

The selectmen and town manager last night Tuesday were scheduled to interview three candidates for the job of public works foreman. The present foreman, Bob Davis, is retiring the first week of November. He will be the subject of a roasting this Friday, at a banquet to be held in the Bethel Inn Conference Center.

Parents weekend at Gould Oct. 23-25

On the weekend of Oct. 23-25, Gould Academy will hold its annual Fall Parents' Weekend. Over 500 parents and family members are expected to attend. Included in the weekend program are parent-teacher conferences, both Friday night and Saturday morning; a student drama production, "The Odyssey," a short, lively play for all age groups; a parents' question committee meeting; a full Saturday afternoon of Gould sports teams in action followed by receptions for parents at the homes of the children's advisor. Weather permitting, a chicken barbecue luncheon will be held outside on Saturday.

SAD #44 board to meet Monday at Telstar

The board of directors of SAD #44 will hold a regular meeting Monday evening, Oct. 26, at 7:30 in the library at Telstar Regional High School.

Agenda items to be considered by the directors will include: request for school bus purchase; substitute personnel; extra-curricular personnel; full-time custodian; 26 weeks; school bus driver (school year); part-time custodian for Crescent Park and Elletts Bluffs school portable classrooms (school year); job descriptions; clerk/receptionist; school or department secretary; head office secretary; Telstar library and A/V and classroom supply coordinator; elementary library aide; teacher aide I, teacher aide II; class enrollment case for third year of a foreign language.

Town Office Bookkeeper Neta Littlefield told the Bethel Board of Selectmen this week that about 20 percent of all Bethel Ambulance billing is unpaid and uncollectable.

Mrs. Littlefield blamed most of the problem on bureaucratic roadblocks put up by Medicare and Medicaid. For example, she said, the federal agencies require a doctor to certify that a patient taken to the hospital by ambulance was in fact non-ambulatory. Should this certification not accompany the bill to the agency, the bill will not be paid, Mrs. Littlefield said.

The selectmen Monday night voted to write off $8,000 in bad debts of the ambulance service, some of which date back to 1979. The ambulance budget in the past two years has set aside a total of $8,000 to cover the expected loss of revenue.

In other action at Monday night's meeting, the selectmen authorized a temporary extension of the special amusement permit for the Sudbury Inn. The permit had come under attack from some neighbors who complained about the noise of live bands playing at the inn on weekends, and about inn patrons parking on neighbors' property.

The action of the board stipulated that the matter of noise would be looked at again in 30 days and again in 60 days. If the complaints have died down by then, an annual permit will be issued.

Sudbury Inn owner David "Fuzzy" Thurston said he was aware that the bands were sometimes too loud and he would take steps to make sure the sound level is kept down, or at least retained inside the new lounge, where the bands play. "I sure will be on top of these guys (the bands)," he said, "letting them know we've got problems." He said he would also put a second door in the stairwell leading down to the lounge so that sound could not escape when patrons enter or leave. And he said he would instruct his bartenders to be sure to close the skylights of the lounge when a band is playing.

The board's action came following a public hearing on the matter of renewing the permit. The board also renewed the inn's liquor permit.

The selectmen authorized the town manager to sell, by bid, the town's 1972 dump truck. The truck is reported to have problems with its frame, its engine, its rear end and its clearing. Selectman Arthur Gilbert suggested it might be best just to sell it by weight, at a per pound price. The winning bidder will have to drive it or haul it away, the selectmen said.

CMP admits power not needed

Officials of Central Maine Power, under sharp questioning at last Tuesday night's public meeting in Andover, admitted that most of the power they want to bring through western Maine on high voltage powerlines will not be needed in the immediate future.

CMP Vice President Richard Crabtree said the first increments of power to be imported from Hydro-Quebec will be mostly sold out-of-state. Only when the imported amount reaches 600 megawatts will the company begin selling about half the imported power to users within the state of Maine.

The utility has argued that the state will have a shortfall of 600 megawatts in the 21st century and this can only be met by importing power from Canada. CMP plans to import up to 1,000 megawatts—rather than the 600 MW claimed as the potential shortfall—because, officials say, the Canadians will not sell them simply the amount needed. The excess will be sold out of state.

While complaining about the expected shortfall, CMP officials have received offers of more than 1,400 megawatts of power by area potential power producers. CMP's Crabtree said he guessed only 100 to 200 megawatts of these proposals would be feasible, by which he meant economical and reliable. Asked when CMP would respond to these bids by would-be cogenerators and hydropower producers, Mr. Crabtree said he had no idea.

If the expected shortfall in the state's power is only actually 300 megawatts (half of what CMP will at first be importing), and if local producers can fill at least 200 megawatts of that shortfall, does it make sense to build a powerline through scenic western Maine to import 1,000 megawatts?

Not hardly. But CMP will do just that if the Legislature, the Department of Environmental Protection and the Public Utilities Commission allow it. It is up to local people to make sure public officials see that the CMP proposal is simply a way to make profits for its shareholders at the expense of the residents of western Maine.

From Augusta

This Nov. 3, Maine voters will consider 13 questions on the referendum ballot. I have listed these questions below, along with a brief explanation of each issue. During the next few weeks, I will be providing you with more information on specific referendum questions. In the meantime, please contact me if I can provide you with fact sheets on these issues or any other specific information.

Initiative Question

1. Do You Want to Let Any Power Plant Like Maine Yankee Operate after July 4, 1988, if it Makes High Level Nuclear Waste?

A YES vote favors allowing Maine Yankee Atomic Power Plant to continue operating and would not preclude the state from commissioning future atomic power plants provided they receive the legislative approval required under the other provisions of Maine law.

A NO vote favors the July 4, 1988, shutdown of the Maine Yankee Atomic Power Plant and would prohibit the state from commissioning future atomic power plants.

Bond Issues

2. Do You Favor a $8,000,000 Bond Issue for Cleaning Up and Closing Solid Waste Landfills that Pose a Hazard to Public Health and to Ground Water Quality?

If successful on Nov. 3, funds from this bond issue will be used by the Department of Environmental Protection to evaluate the level of risk at individual landfills, develop closure and remediation plans in cooperation with municipalities and to implement those plans. In addition, municipalities will be eligible for substantial cost-sharing grants to assist in the closing of their sites.

3. Shall a Bond Issue be Authorized in the Amount of $8,300,000 for Construction of Sewage Treatment Facilities in Communities throughout the State? This $8.3 million bond issue will allow for the continuation of construction of sewage treatment facilities throughout the state of Maine in accordance with the Department of Environmental Protection rating system. Funds will also be used for the "Small Community Facilities Program" to match local funds for small wastewater treatment projects.

4. Shall the State Create the Maine Job Development Program to be Funded with a $6,000,000 Bond Issue? If successful this fall, $6 million will be provided to establish the Maine Job Development Program. This statewide program would provide low interest loans and equity financing to competing businesses to encourage innovative small business proposals. Money would be awarded to firms which best achieve worthwhile social objectives such as creating jobs in areas of high unemployment, providing day care to employees and establishing continuing education and training programs. Funds raised by this bond issue would also provide assistance to municipalities to build their capacity to generate economic growth and jobs through such projects as infrastructure improvements, planning, technical assistance, marketing, etc.

5. Do You Favor a $3,100,000 Bond Issue for Pier Reconstruction at the Maine Maritime Academy? Money provided by this bond issue will be used for the reconstruction of the Maine Maritime Academy pier at Castine.

6. Do You Favor a $3,000,000 Bond Issue for Removal of Oil Storage Tanks and Related Underground Water Restoration? The Department of Environmental Protection will spend funds in this bond issue for the removal of oil storage tanks and related ground water restoration. $500,000 of the $3,000,000 bond issue will be allocated to the Finance Authority of Maine for deposit in the Underground Oil Storage Facility Replacement Fund. Amounts in the fund may be used for loans or other financial assistance to owners of underground oil storage tanks who need the assistance in order to remove the tanks.

7. Do You Favor a $8,000,000 Bond Issue for Capital Repairs and Improvements to State Facilities and the Removal of Asbestos from State Facilities? Funds approved will allow for capital repairs, improvements and asbestos removal from state buildings across the state.

8. Do You Favor a $5,000,000 Bond Issue for Acquisition of School Buses for Maine Public Schools? Maine's school districts will receive an additional $5,000,000 for the acquisition of school buses if this bond issue passes on Nov. 3. Currently, 14 or more of the school buses statewide are over 10 years old.

9. Do You Favor a $25,500,000 Bond Issue for Highway, Bridge, and Airport Improvements and to Reduce Ground Water Pollution Resulting from the Storage of State and Municipally-Owned Highway Materials? The funds provided for in this bond issue will be used to match available federal funds for highway, bridge and airport improvements and to reduce ground water pollution resulting from the storage of state and municipally-owned highway materials.

10. Shall a Bond Issue for the Purchase of Public Land Access for Maine's People in the Amount of $35,000,000, be Issued over a Period of 4 Years Be Approved? If passed in November, the Recreation and Natural Heritage Board would be established to allocate funds during the next four years for the acquisition of sites with outstanding recreational, scenic, natural, or wildlife values.

11. Do You Favor a $6,000,000 Bond Issue for Detection and Removal of Asbestos Hazards in State Facilities and Public Schools? Approval of this bond issue will provide funds to be used for the detection and removal of asbestos hazards in state facilities and public schools.

12. Shall the Constitution of Maine Be Amended to Clarify the Rights of Citizens to Keep and Bear Arms? The Constitution of Maine, Article I, Section 16 cur-

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am writing to encourage the citizens of SAD #4 to attend the Citizens Community Conference on Friday, Oct. 30 at the Bethel Inn Conference Center. Described elsewhere in this issue, the Conference is a really unique opportunity to focus on the changes occurring in our towns, and to work together to positively influence those changes. I believe that we can accomplish remarkable things if we plan and work together, rather than constantly being in the position of reacting to developments after the fact.

So if you are concerned about the lack of affordable housing, about whether there will be any place for the average family to go swimming or boating, about how we can keep our small town friendliness with the impact of condominiums, about insuring year-round well-paid employment, or about any number of other issues, call Adult Education at 824-2780 and sign up. We need to know you are coming to plan for space and food.

The Conference is based on a participatory process so that those attending must commit themselves for the whole day. In return for eight hours of your time, you will be treated to lunch. The results of the event depend on the participation of a broad range of people, from high school to senior citizen, from long-time resident to newcomer.

Over 200 other communities have conducted similar sessions in other parts of the country and I know that if many people turn out for this, the positive results for our towns will be major. The Planning Committee has built in a follow-up process to insure that ideas generated at the event do not get lost once the day is over.

rently reads, "Every citizen has a right to keep and bear arms for the common defense; and this right shall never be questioned." If approved, this amendment will remove the phrase "for the common defense."

13. Shall the Constitution of Maine Be Amended to Require a Candidate for State Representative or State Senator to be a Resident in the District which the Candidate Seeks to Represent at the Time He is Nominated to be Placed on Any Election Ballot? If passed in November, a candidate for election as a member of the House of Representatives or Senate will be required to be a resident of the district he or she seeks to represent at the time of nomination. For a party candidate, this would be at the time his or her nomination papers are filed. For unenrolled candidates, the deadline would be the date of the primary. For a candidate running to fill a vacancy at a special election, the deadline would be when he or she accepts the nomination of the party committee.

On Nov. 3, Maine voters will make a very important decision about the state's role in protecting Maine land for use by Maine citizens. Question #10 on this year's ballot will read: Shall a Bond Issue for the purchase of Public Land Access for Maine's People in the Amount of $35,000,000, be Issued over a Period of 4 Years Be Approved?

If approved by voters this fall, the Recreation and Natural Heritage Board would be established to allocate $35,000,000 during the next four years for the acquisition of properties with outstanding recreational, scenic, natural or wildlife values.

In recent years, public concern has grown over future prospects for outdoor recreation in Maine. Many real estate transactions involving significant natural areas have occurred in Maine during the last three years. Numerous large tracts of shoreline have been purchased and subdivided at a rapid rate. In Wells, a 100 unit condominium project sits on the edge of the Rachel Carson National Wildlife Refuge endangering

To the Editor:

Shutting down Maine Yankee will do the following for Maine:

1. Increase yearly cost of electricity by $100 million or more if the cost of oil increases.
2. Require payment to the plant owners for their plant such as by a bond and increased taxes (an indicated $2 billion).
3. Maine's wage earner, parent and retiree will have less money to spend on more expensive goods and services, reducing the exchange of goods and services resulting in fewer jobs.
4. Maine's businesses will be less competitive with out-of-state businesses.
5. We will either pay more for education, medical care, and charities or there will be less of them.
6. Maine's dependence on foreign oil will be increased (and America's negative balance of payments will be further impaired).
7. One-fifth of our children grow up in poverty and a few more will be pushed into this category.

Shutting down Maine Yankee will increase the generation of electricity by the open-vented burning of fossil fuels (oil, coal and wood), increasing the yearly polluting of our atmosphere by over seven million tons of carbon dioxide, over 30 thousand tons of sulphur and nitrogen acidic compounds, one thousand tons of particulates. Already Maine's inland lakes and the shallow soil on Mt. Desert Island are beginning to feel the impact. In 15 years Maine Yankee has saved polluting the atmosphere by over 100 million tons of carbon dioxide, by over 400 thousand tons of sulphur and nitrogen acidic compounds and by 15,000 tons of a variety of particulates.

By contrast, Maine Yankee generates electricity with negligible environmental impact because the "burning" of nuclear fuel is contained. Fifteen years of Maine Yankee's high level waste is stored in a portion of a 40-foot-cube pool and you can stand next to this pool and it won't hurt you. Spent fuel loses 98 percent of its radioactivity in less than one year. Because the volume of this waste is so low it is affordable (one-tenth of one cent/KWH) to dispose of it safely, such critical wildlife habitat; Western Head, one of the last major undeveloped headlands located on the Downeast coast in Cutler, will be divided into 32 ocean view estates; and a summer estate, built legally, is directly in view of one of Acadia National Park's scenic overlooks. In 1986, Governor Joseph Brennan established the Outdoor Commission on Recreation to evaluate Maine's current status of outdoor recreation and to identify problems and opportunities that demand immediate attention. Among the many recommendations the Commission presented to the Governor was the need for the State to be purchase land where other alternatives (landowner donation) were not available. These carefully selected properties would be significant outdoor recreation resources or provide key public access to valuable outdoor recreation resources.

Currently, Maine has 900,000 acres of Federal and State-owned land available for public outdoor recreation. These include areas like Acadia National Park, the Allagash Wilderness Waterway and Baxter State Park. They also include 450,000 acres of land owned by the State featuring the Bigelow Preserve, Desboulle Mountain, Duck and Seraglio Lakes, Richardson Town and 1,300 coastal islands.

However, these acreages combined represent less than five percent of Maine's total acreage. Maine ranks 47th out of 50 states in the proportion of land in public trust and, in addition, public recreation acreage totals less than 15 acres per thousand residents in five of Maine's 16 counties.

—Senator R. Donald Twitchell District 15

To the Editor:

By now, many people are familiar with the fact that Central Maine Power Company is proposing to purchase up to 1000 megawatts of electrical power from Hydro-Quebec, the Canadian utility, and transport it on a new high voltage (450 kv) power line through western Maine. Towns affected would be Lincoln (and Magalloway (Plantations), Upton, Andover, Roxbury, Carthage, Mexico, Dixfield and Jay. For various reasons, this proposal is being opposed by a number of organizations, businesses and individuals.

No Thank Q Hydro-Quebec, a voluntary community-action organization, is concerned about a broad range of environmental, economic and health effects from the project and is working to oppose the Hydro-Quebec proposal by intervening in state and federal regulatory permitting processes. No Thank Q Hydro-Quebec is also working to increase awareness of the project and its effects among Maine Citizens. This letter is part of that effort.

No Thank Q has copies of numerous reports, journal articles and newspaper and magazine clippings which point to concerns about potential harmful effects of power lines. One publication, Microwave News, a bimonthly report on non-ionizing radiation, has had several articles about power line effects and research. Over the past year Microwave News has also reported on lawsuits over high-voltage power lines brought by affected parties in three states.

In Florida, landowners, adjacent to lots taken for a 500 kv power line right-of-way received a $1.8 million award from a jury in 1985 because in the jury's opinion, power line radiation poses a potential health risk and had been appealed to the Florida Supreme Court by the utility, Florida Power and Light Co. A similar case, brought by landowners in another county which the same power line crossed, resulting in a $1.8 million award.

Still under appeal in Texas is a case in which a jury awarded $25 million in 1985 to a school district because Houston as by glassifying it in suitable containers for deposit in geologically stable repositories.

Maine Yankee produces electricity safely. Its high-strength reactor vessel, high-strength containment building, stable moderator, back-up cooling systems and multi-redundant sensing systems, are part of its in-depth safety design. The American nuclear power industry with plants like Maine Yankee has 1100 years of operating experience in now over 100 plants—and an unusually excellent safety record. (By contrast the Chernobyl plant "burned" nuclear fuel in an open arrangement for continuous withdrawal and replacement of radioactive material without a high-strength reactor vessel and without a high-strength containment building and with an unstable moderator carbon that burned—design features the Russians were warned about years ago). The American electrical power plant total cycle comparisons of mining, processing, transporting, burning, efficient, waste disposal and risk of the various fuels. Coal, oil, nuclear and wood show nuclear to be dramatically less polluting and far less risk, by a factor of many hundreds or more than these other fuels.

Maine Yankee is Maine's largest single source of electricity, producing one-fourth of Maine's expanding electrical needs. Maine Yankee is a great asset to Maine as it produces electricity at the remarkably low rate of 2 1/2 cents/KWH and it does so with negligible environmental impact. There is no replacement source of electricity that can come close to this performance. It only makes sense to keep Maine Yankee running. Vote Yes!

Monday, Oct. 26: Liver (vitamin K) with onion gravy, oven browned potatoes, brussels sprouts or cauliflower, pear.

Tuesday, Oct. 27: Juice, baked chicken leg, whipped potatoes, vegetable combo or peas, bread, cottage pudding.

Thursday, Oct. 28: Fruit salad, shepherd pie, corn bread, assorted fruit dessert.

Lighting and Power Company had located a 345 kv line through school property, with "reckless disregard" of children's health.

New York landowners near the 345 kv Marcy-South power line sued the New York Power Authority in January of this year for more than $80 million. The landowners claim that the presence of the line will create a "cancerphobia corridor" and will destroy "the market value of land in and around that corridor." They believe a right-of-way at least 2400 feet wide is called for.

Clearly, the presence of high-voltage power lines has a detrimental effect on property values and the quality of life nearby. Realizing this, a number of landowners here in western Maine have refused permission for CMP and its consultants to enter upon their property for the purpose of conducting surveys or environmental studies for the power line. This refusal is entirely within the rights of property owners and No Thank-Q supports those landowners who are concerned about the project and wish to have no part in its undertaking.

Central Maine Power already has purchased some land and land options for the proposed transmission line right-of-way and converter station. No landowner should ever feel threatened into selling land or land options to any buyer, including Central Maine Power Company. At this time, no one has to feel they must sell any land or options for the proposed power line. It will be at least 2 years before all the required permits for the project can be issued and the go ahead given, if indeed the project is ever approved.

Because of some past practices regarding land taken by utilities, there may be some misunderstanding about the power of eminent domain. Today, a utility can't simply decide it will take and hold certain land that it wants. Eminent domain can only be used after all permits and approvals have been obtained for a project. When land is taken by eminent domain, the location must be approved by the Public Utilities Commission. An electric utility cannot take by eminent domain land or easements located within 300 feet of an inhabited dwelling. Further, a landowner is always entitled to fair market value for any land taken.

Public statements by CMP officials indicate that if enough landowners refused to sell land for this project, it would be beyond the power of CMP to obtain eminent domain to carry the project through. However, in the event that a landowner indicates refusal to sell land for the right-of-way, CMP may simply move the proposed line to the land of a more cooperative landowner. Therefore, No Thank Q Hydro-Quebec encourages abutting landowners to keep in touch with each other and inform neighbors about the proposed power line. Remember that CMP has no plans to compensate abutting landowners for any losses in property values resulting from the presence of a high voltage power line nearby. They would only be paying for the land or an easement in the 200 foot wide right-of-way or possibly the lot that the right-of-way passes through.

In the event of any problems or complaints regarding the above issues, the Public Advocate may be able to supply information at State House Station 112, Augusta, ME 04333 • 289-2445. You may also write to No Thank Q Hydro-Quebec, Star Route Box 2905, Dryden, ME 04225 for assistance.

Letters to the editor...

To the Editor:

On Nov. 3, Maine voters will have an opportunity to decide whether or not the State of Maine should create the Maine Job Development Program by approving a $6 million bond issue.

This $6 million bond issue will fund a revolving loan program to help Maine's capital-starved smaller businesses create good jobs and new opportunities for Maine people and communities who need help.

Loans will be awarded not only on the basis of the viability of the business, but on the commitment of that business to its community and its citizens.

Recent headlines boasting record low unemployment rates failed to say that the vast majority of the new jobs created in Maine were in the low-wage service and retail sector of the economy. These are not the jobs that can build a strong, independent future for our communities and our children.

The Maine Job Development Program will not, by itself, solve this dilemma. It is, however, an important step in a new direction for Maine.

Craig Brown, Campaign Organizer
Maine Citizens for Economic Opportunities

To the Editor:

Among the referendum items approved by the 113th Legislature for voter consideration on the Nov. 3 ballot are two proposals which address the problem of asbestos in buildings.

Ballot item 11 continues the funding program for more immediate asbestos management needs established by a 1986 bond issue, but in this case the primary focus is on the public schools. All schools now face asbestos management requirements established by a new Federal law, the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act. AHERA gives the schools one year to do a complete facility survey using specially trained people, and to develop and submit a management plan for dealing with all friable and non friable asbestos which is identified. This bond will enable the State to undertake a statewide survey and planning process, relieving the public schools of the burden and providing consistent results throughout Maine. The funds will also enable the State to assist public schools which have serious asbestos problems, and thus speed up the process of removing any health threats which may exist for our children.

Ballot item 7 is an $8,000,000 bond issue

Rev. Herbert G. Weeks is retiring at the end of October. He has served the First Universalist Church for the past eight years. A retirement party will be held at the church Sunday evening, Oct. 25, beginning at 7 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Proctor recently attended the Fall Meeting of the Rural Letter Carriers at the Rangeley Inn. They also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Earle Palmer in Oquossoc.

Weekend guests of William and Sally Berry were her sister, Nancy Davis, brother, Larry Davis, and friend Shelley Packard, all of Rochester, N.Y.

Harold and Elsie Mallard of Boertown, Pa., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Doughty several days the first of the week.

Mary Emery, Cynthia and Joyce Lamb, Edith Morey and Miriam Inman had lunch on Tuesday with Jane and Don Demarest. The girls spent the afternoon on craft work for the November sale.

Forward Fellowship will meet on Monday, Oct. 26, at the home of Dixie Inman. A pot luck supper will precede the meeting.

for "capital repairs and improvement to state facilities and the removal of asbestos from State Facilities." Most of these funds provide for significant repairs and improvements to facilities throughout the state, and continues a long standing effort by the Legislature to maintain and improve the State's physical plant. One million dollars of those funds are earmarked specifically for asbestos removal which is directly related to capital construction projects. The management goal is to begin treating asbestos removal as a routine required capital budget item so that over time the need for special funds to be raised for this purpose will be reduced or eliminated. This approach will also lead to the elimination of asbestos from our facilities in a measured, long term fashion.

RICHARD BEEDY, of Dixfield (left), district deputy grand master, and Peter Haines, of Bethel, district representative, are two prominent area Masons who will be participating in next Monday's 20th district meeting, in West Paris.

Area Masons to hear plans for youth drug and alcohol fight

Maine Freemasons made a commitment to fight drug and alcohol abuse among Maine youth at their 168th Annual Session held at Lewiston in May.

By unanimous vote the more than 600 Masons attending pledged their support and resources to help young people escape the ravages of substance abuse.

On Monday evening, Oct. 26, members of the eight Masonic lodges of Maine's 20th Masonic District will learn more about the program when Ernest H. Curtis of Auburn, Grand Master of Maine's nearly 36,000 Masons, visits Granite Lodge in West Paris for the yearly district meeting. He will be accompanied to this special meeting by Grand Lodge officers from around the state.

The Masonic-sponsored program to help young people began in Pennsylvania and has spread from coast to coast. Curtis calls the effort "Masonry's newest example of the fraternity's commitment to help people in need."

For more than 60 years Maine Shrine-Masons have joined with other Shrine-Masons across North America to build, support and operate 21 Shriner Hospitals for any crippled or badly burned child regardless of faith, creed or national origin. More than 5000 children are treated annually in these hospitals at no cost to their families.

Including work of the children's hospitals, various scholarship programs for American Youth, and the several Masonic-sponsored homes for the elderly, charitable gifts of the Masonic family now approach $2 million each day or approximately $700 million annually.

Last May Maine Masons also amended their by-laws governing Grand Lodge charity fund work in the state. Curtis says he'll explain, at the meeting, the "broader range of charitable work we now can do as a result of the changes."

Richard Beedy of Dixfield, District Deputy Grand Master of the 20th District, promises that the evenings program will be of interest to all who attend. In addition to the Grand Master's address, a skit entitled "The Making of the Constitution" will be offered. Beedy will introduce the five members of King Hiram Lodge of Dixfield who'll participate. They include Reginald Wing, Dexter Berry, Leonard Brooks, George Saltonstall and Les Gatchell.

"Mason of the Year" awards also will be presented to one member of each of the district's eight lodges.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7:30 and end promptly at 9:30. District Deputy Beedy says a "delicious supper" prepared and served by ladies of the Eastern Star will start the evening at 6:30. Beedy says he anticipates a good

The autumnal colors grow darker and duller but it was one of the loveliest tinted days when I chose to visit the Pot Holes some distance up the railroad from here. My young friend, Denise, went with me. She took her car to a certain place and left it. Then we followed a wood-road through the forest to the railroad tracks. On the wayside through the first part of the way we were disturbed by the clutter and waste thrown out there. How could anyone leave such filth where the shrubs were on fire with scarlet, yellow, and green, kindling at the base of trees a beautiful wood-glow.

Blackberry bushes in some places looked like a streak of blood on the grass.

Walking the track wasn't a new experience to me, but to Denise it was.

I wasn't at all sure that I could find these phenomenal ravines and holes for it had been several years since I had been there.

All along the way the color was dazzling. The maples were like close suns and the oaks glowed with garnet fire; while other trees flamed against the sky. When I turned my head to look at the beauty of the autumn road there was a moment when all sorrows and frustrations diminished and only the good things stood out. Perhaps everyone feels an awareness of beauty and the ability to capture the perfect moment.

After the distance of walking (yes, a bit too close for a natural step) we came to the iron bridge or trestle where the river was flowing beneath, far down below us. I had been taught how to foss it many years ago so that I did not need to see the water and possibly get dizzy. But I liked to stop and look down and so did Denise.

Just beyond there we ledges at my right which had been assaulted by full sun and were weathering constantly and so crusted lichens covered the surface.

At last I found the rhyolites which I had in mind, so we left the track to enter the woods on the left to find more strange rocks and ledges and the holes for which we were searching.

The thick duff floor was typical of a conifer forest in places. Shade-tolerant mosses and lichens crept along the ground.

In spots the ridges of rocks and of soil rose sharply requiring a scramble to get to the top. It required an undignified ascent over a wet carpet at times. But I made all the up and downs in one way or another.

Wind, water, and ice have been at work here over a long period of time. The N.K. (Scott) Ferguson, O.D., is a new associate of Conway Eye Care and Eye Care Associates of North Conway, N.H. He will practice optometry at the Conway office as well as at the office in the Main Street Professional Building in North Conway. He is the son of Norman and Barbara Ferguson of Hanover. His wife Lisa is also a Hanover native, the daughter of Paul and Lynne Ramsey. Along with their year-old son, Eric, they are new residents of Madison, N.H. The family looks forward to enjoying backpacking, skiing and other outdoor recreation in the Valley.

The vines were deep and awesome, the falls swift, and the rock shapes fascinating.

It took a little searching to find the "Bean Pot" which has a diameter of about three feet. This was the highlight of the worn rocks; a hole down, down, dark and deep and guarded by a single birch tree resplendent in autumnal attire.

We walked back down the tracks and through the glory-woods to the car. I checked my pedometer to find we had traveled nearly six colorful miles.

So with all this comes the music of falling leaves. Slowly they float down until they are ankle deep. We wandered through them as toddlers but at eighty years and beyond the sound is exactly the same as on long vanished October days... the rustling of leaves.

There aren't many local news items this week, at least few have been reported. Everyone is busy getting ready for snowflake days. I have been taking off screens, washing windows and putting on my storm windows. I found it harder to lift the heavy windows up into place while standing on a step ladder than a few years ago. But it's done so, "Let it snow!"

Jane, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat DiArenzo is visiting her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. John Betts joined other family members to go on the ferry to Nova Scotia.

My callers were Denise Adams and children, Joshua and Jessica. They came to share Jessica's birthday cake and ice cream with me. She is three years old. Others were Carl and Lettie Brooks, West Paris.

A Bunny Rabbit greeted me at my steps on Tuesday. He made no conversation, but hurried on.

Agnes Gray School

By MARTA CLEMENTS

Three new students are being welcomed this week: Jeremiah Casteel, in kindergarten, Samantha Casteel, grade 3, and Cameron Casteel, grade 4. October is a fun month to be new at school. There are lots of Halloween activities going on. The kindergartners are painting their papier mache pumpkins, grade 2 is making spook houses and sixth graders are writing Halloween stories.

The annual Halloween parade will be held on Friday, Oct. 30, at 1:15. (The kindergarten will be having their own party in the morning, with a parade through all the classrooms. They will not return in the afternoon for the big parade.) The usual route will be followed: march down Main Street to the bank, turn on to Pioneer Street, turn again at Kingsbury Street past the fire station and back to the Agnes Gray School. Parents and friends are encouraged to come and watch.

On Thursday, Mr. Martin Kadel, the District Executive of the Pine Tree Council, came to talk to the boys about scouting. Scouting will be starting up again in West Paris. This will involve Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts ages 6-18. Mr. Kadel will hold a meeting for parents and future scouts on Wednesday, Oct. 21 at the Agnes Gray School in the Library. Again, parents and interested friends are encouraged to attend. This will be the time to sign up.

On Oct. 20, the first school volunteer meeting of the year will be held. We will meet in Mrs. Loper's room. These meetings are informal and really add to our volunteer program, parents, please come if you can.

Also on Tuesdays and Thursdays an adult education program for Literacy Volunteers is being held in our Library.

School personnel and a volunteer are looking forward to Oct. 26 and 27. Mrs. Heidi Everett, Mrs. Alta Pierce and Mrs. Michelle Blake will be attending this year's session of Great Books Training. We are all looking forward to starting up this program again.

Other, miscellaneous items that include school work and fun activities are: Grades 4, 5 and 6 took a phys. ed. trip to the high school and completed the annual mile run on the race track, instead of around and around our own building—

FIFTH GRADE STUDENTS AT CRESCENT PARK SCHOOL are enjoying learning how to use the video camera. Huey, who has done extensive work in Maine schools to produce students' video art, is a resident artist at CPS this year. Co-sponsored by the Mahoosuc Arts Council and the Maine Commission for the Arts, Huey will spend 12 days in the school throughout the year. Last week he conducted a workshop to teach a crew of teachers how to make video productions. He has spent two days with the fifth grades and will spend a further nine days in the spring. Each class will create their own art through video, culminating in a show for parents in May. Above, Huey works with Nathan Wight and Nicholas Chapman. (Photo by Jeanne Boelsma)

Gould students and elderly interact

Under the able leadership of Stephen Sanborn, a member of the Gould faculty, a group of Gould students is volunteering in their free time to help the elderly in the Bethel area by raking leaves, washing windows, running errands, cleaning up brush and doing anything else that will help to get ready for winter.

The group is trying to establish ties between the generations. It's important for older people to reach out and down to younger people as well as for younger ones to reach up to those who are older.

In addition to the concrete things that are being done, it is hoped that those involved will develop a mutual respect for the diversity of lifestyle that each age group encompasses.

Computers aid in search for jobs and educations

The computer-based guidance services for SAD #44 adults and school students have expanded during the past months with the assistance of several special grants received from MOICC, the Maine Occupational Information Coordinating Committee.

Area adults have been participating in CHOICES since last spring, according to Adult Guidance Counselor Merrill Bittner. This program allows adults to explore over 1,000 career possibilities through a process of matching interests, aptitudes and job requirements using the computer. The CHOICES program update for 1988 has just been received in the SAD #44 Adult Education office. Over 200 new occupational titles have been added, and the program has been expanded to include Maine labor market data.

The college search portion of CHOICES has been revised to run in color on the Tandy computer in use in SAD #44.

The CHOICES process for adults involved individual time with Ms. Bittner receiving instructions about the program, completion of a detailed personal profile, and two or more sessions on the computer, resulting in a list of potential occupations.

The CHOICES program also allows information search on specific occupations, and the process has been given excellent reviews by the 20 individuals who have participated in the process since March. The program is easy to run and has proven to be a non-threatening introduction to computer use for several of the participants.

A new addition to the SAD #44 Adult Guidance resources is the program TIPS, which was received as part of a Carl Perkins vocational grant this year. The TIPS program also runs on the Tandy, and allows adults to work at their own pace through an instructional program relating to job seeking skills, from resume preparation to interviewing. The program is very flexible, with participants able to use the entire 10 segments or to zero in on a single topic.

CHOICES and TIPS are available to adults with special emphasis on those individuals enrolled in high school completion, GED, or vocational programs, as well as others who are planning to enter the workforce, or who are looking for a change of job. To arrange an appointment, call the SAD #44 Adult and Community Education office, 824-2780.

SAD #44 Adult Education and the Middle School Guidance programs will be cooperating in offering the program CHOICES JR., which is a much less complicated version of CHOICES produced for younger age groups. Middle School Guidance Counselor Sally Hannon and John Woodbury of the Middle School

Andy Wheeler and a fraternity brother, Jason McAvoy, are spending this semester off from school to take an extended tour of the United States. They plan to complete a cross country trip to San Francisco, Calif.

Deborah Wheeler spent the weekend at her home from her studies at the U. of S.M.

Faculty will work with students individually and in small groups using this program, which is aimed at assisting the middle schoolers in career awareness as they look toward their high school programs. CHOICES JR. will also be used by adult education for some younger adult education students. CHOICES JR. has been ordered and should be on line in November.

Rounding out the SAD #44 computer-based guidance services, is the Guidance Information System (GIS) used by the Telstar High Regional School Guidance Department. Under the direction of Dan Hart, this has been used for the past several years by students seeking both employment and college information. The GIS system is updated annually.

According to Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell, the computer-based guidance resources provide an efficient and time-saving process in obtaining information on occupations and educational opportunities. However, the assistance of trained counselors is vital to the process for both students and adults. The addition of counselors at the elementary, middle, and adult levels to the existing high school staff is what will really make the services work in SAD #44, she said.

Literacy Awareness swings into high gear

Literacy Awareness Month in SAD #44 will link with the national Project Literacy US (PLUS) effort on Tuesday, Oct. 27 when SAD #44 Adult and Community Education will sponsor a Literacy in the Workplace program at the Bethel Rotary Club's regular breakfast meeting at Martha's Restaurant.

Channel 10 has provided a short video excerpt from their upcoming literacy special, due to air Oct. 21, and Cathy Newell will discuss state and local literacy efforts.

In addition to members of the Rotary Club, area employers have been invited to attend the Literacy Breakfast.

Other Literacy Month activities include the Tutor Training course, currently in progress in West Paris for SAD #17 and SAD #44 tutors. Upon completion of the course on Oct. 22, new tutors will be available to work with adults who would like to improve their reading or writing skills. Some tutors will work in adult education learning centers while others will be available to tutor at work sites or individually in student's homes or at community locations.

The Library Literacy Awareness Project is in full swing with the completion of the Bookmark contest for area school students. Shirley Hodson, a member of the SAD #44 Literacy Task Force, worked with librarians Betsy Raymond of Bethel and Carol Littlehale of Andover to set this up. A set of posters from the American Library Association have been ordered and will be distributed soon, as

Adult Ed to conduct weatherization classes

SAD #44 Adult and Community Education has been awarded a grant by the Maine Office of Energy Resources to participate in the "Weatherize Homes in Maine" (WHIME) project. According to Director of Adult and Community Education Cathy Newell, SAD #44 will offer community energy workshops designed to assist homeowners, renters and landlords in reducing energy costs up to 50 percent through a series of free workshops. Participants in the workshops will receive vouchers worth $75 for weatherization materials appropriate to their residence.

Tim O'Connor, of the Telstar Industrial Arts Department, has been selected to instruct the workshops in SAD #44 and will attend a training session on Oct. 17. A schedule of workshops will be released by Nov. 1.

The statewide WHIME program is the result of a court decision relating to fuel overcharges to residents of Maine. Selected local adult education programs are serving as training agencies for the WHIME program in order to assure statewide coverage. "The combination of state-of-the-art training, plus free materials, should spark interest in the subject of energy conservation," Mrs. Newell said. "This is a unique opportunity which is unlikely to be repeated, and I hope the response will be enthusiastic."

There will be several training workshops at varied times, and in several locations throughout the District.

FRIENDS OF THE Androscoggin

Friends of the Androscoggin, a citizen committee concerned with the Androscoggin River, has learned that the Department of Environmental Protection will hold a hearing on Nov. 2, 1987, at 7 p.m. at Rumford High School. The hearing is expected to focus on what types of development will be allowed along the Androscoggin and Kennebec, as well as goals for water quality. This is an opportunity for residents to make known their preferences as to the future condition of the rivers, and the public is urged to attend.

The Friends of the Androscoggin met on Oct. 13 to hear a report on the Foliage Plotilla of Oct. 3, which Steve Wight deemed a great success. Those attending the meeting were Sally Sawyer, Dick and Lorrie Hoch, Jeff Mills, Steve Keane, Ken Bohr, Steve Wight, Sally Rollinson, Sherry Holmes, Steve Rhodes, Bernie Michaud, Cathy Newell, Lennie Shaw, and Eric Schwartz.

Cathy Newell, acting chairperson, led a discussion which centered on the purpose of the group. The tentative consensus was that for the present, the Friends should work primarily on developing public access to the river. In addition, the organization should gather and disseminate information about the river.

Youth honored by Mundt-Allen Post & Unit

On Oct. 13, the Mundt-Allen Post and Unit #81 held their annual supper honoring the girls and boys who attended Girls and Boys State programs last June at Husson College in Bangor and at the University of Maine campus in Orono. Youth attending the supper were Melissa Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Palmer, Newry Corner; Delwin Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delwin Wilson, South Woodstock; and Jason Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams of Bethel. Due to illness and prior commitments, Todd Davis, Steve Learned and Karen Simmons were unable to attend. Ted Davis was present. Each gave excellent reports of their week's activities with pictures and programs available for viewing. Melissa Palmer stated that she would very much like to return to Girls State as a junior counselor next year. Shirley Emery, counselor at Girls State was present. Mrs. Emery is also Second District President.

Members and guests enjoyed a roast turkey supper with all the fixings. During the meeting that followed a new member, Eunice Hathaway, was welcomed. Edleen Winslow gave a report on her impressions of recent meetings that she has attended.

Carolyn Brooks, Maureen Swain, and President Jeri Brooks attended the Regional Conference at Brunswick recently.

Thanks were given to those who participated in any way in the preparation of the supper: Diane Saunders, Dot Bean, Monique Rolfe, Millie Thomas, Louise Palmer, Maureen Swain, Carolyn Brooks, Doris Parent, Arlene Bean, Abby Buswell, Caroline Merrill, Ruth Kittredge, and Jeri Brooks.

Thanks were extended to those attending the services for Selma Chapman, a deceased member. It was voted to send donations for Halloween to Telstar, Head Start and the Woodstock School.

The auxiliary is serving a roast beef supper for the Shriners on Oct. 21. There will be a blood drive on Nov. 13 and Melissa Palmer, Caroline Merrill and Edleen Winslow volunteered their services.

Plans for a Christmas Party were discussed.

President Brooks showed the first in a series of cups and saucers that are available from the auxiliary. The proceeds from one of these sets was sent to the Child Welfare Foundation in the name of the unit.

Second District President Shirley Emery was introduced. She noted that veterans at Togus love popcorn. Many of the wards have their own poppers. Anyone having extra popcorn they would like to donate—unit members will make sure that it gets to Togus. A good source—a lot of people buy it to help the Boy Scouts but don't always use it—what better way than to give it to the veterans at Togus—a double benefit. The supply closet is always in need of personal items such as toothbrushes, toothpaste, disposable razors, stick or roll-on deodorant.

Thanks were given to Millie Thomas for calling members to remind them of the supper. Following the supper, Harry Davis and several Telstar band students entertained with a short musical program.

Ladd appointed executive director of SWOAM

Abbott B. Ladd, a Tree Farm supervisor and professional forester, has been appointed executive director of the Small Woodland Owners Association of Maine. The announcement was made this week by Peter Lawrence, the association's president.

Ladd is at present the Tree Farm Family supervisor for Boise Cascade Paper Group in Rumford, a position he has held since 1975. He will retire from Boise Cascade at the end of the year, having served with the company and its predecessor, Oxford Paper, since 1955.

"Abbott Ladd has worked with small woodlot owners in Maine for years," Lawrence noted in making the appointment. "He knows how valuable the small woodland resource is to Maine's economy and environment. His experience and knowledge, and his stature in the natural resources community, are ideally suited to the challenges SWOAM is undertaking, and we are delighted he is joining us."

Carter new chairman of dairy promotion board

Tim Carter of Bethel is the new Maine Dairy Promotion Board Chairman. The board promotes the use of milk by consumers through television, radio and the print media, and through in-store campaigns aimed directly at purchases.

"There is a growing market for milk and milk products in this state and that growth is the basis of a strong industry for years to come," said Carter. "The board's responsibility is to assure a demand."

Milk consumption is at an all time high in Maine at 34 gallons per person in 1986 compared to the national average of 26 gallons. According to Carter Maine's consumption figures have not peaked. For example, milk consumption in Finland and Norway is over 48 gallons per person annually. And, the cheese market has great potential. Currently, the U.S. average is 22 pounds per person, while that of France and Greece exceeded 45 pounds.

Carter added that the dairy industry in Maine provides the market with a top quality product at a low price and that it produces just about what the state uses.

The Maine Dairy Promotions Board and The Maine Dairy and Nutrition Council collectively form the Maine Milk Program. Both organizations are funded through taxes imposed on the industry.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to extend a heartfelt thank you to everyone who made our anniversary party so special. Especially our children, Shelley, Will and Louise, and our "sister" Deb.

What better way to celebrate than with good food, good drink, and, most importantly, good friends.

Thanks,
Wendy and Burnie

Didn't get anything written for this past week but will see what I can do this week. It's Sunday morning here at the hospital and it's rainy and cold outside. Had hoped for a good day to take a ride but can't change the weather so have to make the best of it.

This hospital isn't like a regular one. We are here to learn to cope with the pain in the chronic pain unit. We might get less pain in the future and might not. However, we are being taught to cope with it in different ways.

Our day usually starts with warm-up exercises, followed by other classes such as patient meetings, stress management, community meeting, body mechanics, ambulation, and others. We have other exercises we have to do, each individual having his or her own special program to do. It makes a difference what their problem is. We don't have visiting hours till evening unless some of the family want to come and see what the classes are about. They are encouraged to come to the patient/family meeting especially but can come to any of them they would like to. This helps them understand what the patient goes through. Some of us go to the "Y" to exercise in the pool twice a week. The water temperature may be good and warm but sure feels cold to me. I've been in once as I came on with a real bad cold. It hates to leave me so like many others here, I cough my head off.

Friday is a day when one of the classes involves making a meal in occupational therapy or going on a trip somewhere in Portland. We went to the Old Port on Friday by taking the public bus that stops at the Maine Medical Building. The trip is a little rough on those with back problems as it isn't very smooth and the bus goes so far to get back to the starting point. We got to see a lot of the city.

The programs here cover many types of pain whether it be for arthritis, head injuries, spinal injuries and others. One of the girls, who just went home, had pain from pancreatitis. She was doing well and I hope she continues to do so.

We, in the pain group I'm in, are close and support one another which is such a help. Everyone is a friend in a short while. Maybe it is because we understand a lot of what each of us is going through trying to get off pain pills and learning to cope with the pain. There is one thing that bothers; one needs to be fairly healthy otherwise in order to handle what goes on here. This isn't a hospital for staying in bed. It is for getting how to do more and can be a little rough at times. I find my muscles are doing better as I stretch them with all the exercises. Sometimes the pain is less and some times it's not. Learning to live with it better is the name of the game.

Have missed seeing all the pretty foliage I love to admire. We don't see as many trees here as at home.

Peggy and Russell have been down a couple of times so I got to the laundromat to wash my clothes. They have been canning and freezing vegetables, filling freezers and shelves. What a help for the winter! The garden did especially well this year. Russell said he had picked the tomatoes and Peggy made more tomato soup but still a lot of tomatoes left. Don't know what they will do with them. I told Russell he ought to sell some. They have been large but very meaty and good.

I feel as though I should be home helping take care of garden things but can't be in two places at once. Guess Peggy and Russell are doing a good job and I'm trying my best here.

MICROWAVE WORKSHOP

There will be a Microwave workshop on Wednesday, Oct. 28, at 7 p.m. at Telstar High School.

Brenda Edley, CMP Home Economist, will present a program on the safe and efficient use of the microwave oven, and will demonstrate a variety of recipes and techniques.

To enroll in the Microwave workshop, call the SAD #44 Adult and Community Education office, 824-2780.

Hope everyone has a good week and maybe I'll write next week. I will have to see what happens. Wynona, Mike and the girls are coming today to take me out to lunch and a ride even though it is raining.

Boys & Girls Staters honored at Locke Mills

Jackson-Silver Unit #68, American Legion Auxiliary, Locke Mills, held their Girls State banquet last Thursday evening, in conjunction with the Post's Boys State night.

In the absence of Girls Stater Angela Sawyer, Boys Stater Marc Barton reported on the many activities and benefits of their trips in June. Kelly Bartlett read the report of Miss Sawyer.

A short skit entitled "We Did It," on the signing of the Constitution 200 years ago, was given by members of the Post and Unit, directed by the music chairman, Mary Lyon.

The distinguished guests, National Vice Chairman of Membership Jeri Brooks, State Girl State Directors Shirley Williams and Ruth Jucious, State Department Historian Wilma Warner, Councilor Lucille Allen, Tom Warner, head of Maine 40 & 8, and Vito DeFilipp, advisor to state commanders, all enjoyed to the program, the young folks, and the ham dinner prepared by President Leah Deegan and daughter Sally Smith, Grace Smith and their assistants, Sylvia Dunham, Olive Risco, Noreen Russo, and junior members. Homemade apple pie and ice cream completed the meal.

Commander Herb Lyon presided at the head table, introducing the guests and the two old-timers, Past State President Fannie Cummings and Alanson Cummings, veteran of World War I and II. A 1937 18" x 30" copy of the proclamation of Franklin D. Roosevelt on the 150th anniversary of the signing of the U.S. Constitution, was given to the Post by the Cummingses, for safe-keeping.

The bridge luncheon will be held Oct. 24 at noon at the Legion Home, Gore Road. It will feature chicken ala king at $4. There will be prizes. Mary Lyon will be the hostess.

A "miss you" card was signed by members and guests for Comrade Pat DiArenzo. His address is West Paris, RFD.

Visitors welcomed to the program were Mrs. Lynn Barton, Bryant Pond; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lovejoy, Traverse City, Mich.; Jane Chandler, Lewiston Sun; and Jeanne Boelsma, Bethel Citizen.

Chaplain Rodney Hanscom opened and closed the evening's proceedings with prayers, and "God Bless America" was sung by all.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

Research continues on the history of Railroad Street in preparation for the next monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society on Nov. 5. Several more station agents have been named: Phillips Brooks, John Plante, J.G. Auger, and Frank Goddard. More names are needed. Also more information is needed on the origins of the house now owned by Larry and Mary Davis, the so-called "Burbank" house. There is apparently not much information available on the only building on the railroad side of Railroad Street. The theory is that this building goes back to the days of "Potato John" Swan and was once the site of thousands of bushels of potatoes that were moved out of Bethel in the early years of the 20th century. Anyone having any data concerning any of these sites or anything else dealing with the history of the street is urged to call Mrs. Geraldine S. Howe (824-3188) or the Society office at 824-2408. Photographs of Railroad Street buildings and people are also needed as well.

Newest member of the Bethel Historical Society is Barbara Wilson Taliaferro of Englewood, Fla.

Among the latest contributors to the Society's 1987 Endowment Campaign are Beatrice B. Brown of Bethel in memory of Isaac A. Cushman, and Donald and Mary Calderwood, Mesa, Ariz. Much appreciation is expressed to these donors for their generosity.

The Society has received photographs of several pages of a Smith genealogy compiled by Danny D. Smith of Gardiner. In these pages Smith traces the lines of Ithiel Smith who married Lucy Littlehale of Newry. For persons interested in this Newry family there is considerable data. Anyone wishing to study this material is invited to visit the Society's Eva Bean Research Room Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., or by appointment.

Visitors this week to the Dr. Moses House included a Congregational Church women's group from Gorham, N.H. Society Director Stanley R. Howe also addressed Mount Sugarloaf Grange in Dixfield on the bicentenary of the U.S. Constitution.

Bethel Senior Citizens

The Bethel Senior Citizens met Wednesday, Oct. 14, at the Rumford Point Church. The business meeting at 11:15 was opened by President Virginia Walker. A poem was read by President Walker followed by treasurer's report by Sarah Stevens who also stated that the club now has 80 members under 80 years of age, and 18 over 80. In the absence of the secretary, Barbara H. Brown, Muriel Faudi read the secretary's report. The sunshine report was given by Peggy Coolidge. Polly Shatney reported on the upcoming food sale. A grab bag auction will be held at the November meeting. Lindsey Wieden spoke on various meetings which had been held and which were to be held. An inspiring poem was read by Mr. Wieden written by his uncle in May of 1901.

Under new business a nominating committee was appointed by President Walker consisting of Betty Blake, Eunice Powell, and Hulda Stevens. Cathy Newell was the speaker before lunch, telling the group of several up-coming events including the Citizens Community Conference on Friday, Oct. 30, from 9 to 4, at the Bethel Inn Conference Center. There is no charge and lunch will be provided. For registration, please call 824-2780.

Birthdays celebrated this month are Bea Brown, Annie Olson, Ronald Stevens, Edna Fallon, Georgia Packard, Lillian Bartlett, and Opal Tyler. Fifty-seven were present at this meeting.

Jim Brown gave a program report on David Worcester from Rumford Point who will demonstrate the dulcimer at the Nov. 11 meeting at the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel. The Christmas party will be held at the Bethel Inn with fashion show and music. A delicious chicken pie luncheon was served. The birthday cake was made by Leona Flint.

Following the meeting and meal, the group was inspired by a talk given by Betty Currie of Augusta. Her subject was "If" which means "intestinal fortitude." She is an example of courage, and gave her audience much to think about as the ending of a splendid afternoon.

Mineral & Gem Assoc. to meet Thursday

The Oxford County Mineral and Gem Association Inc. will meet at the Dr. Moses Mason House in Bethel on Thursday, Oct. 22, at 7 p.m.

The member will present a program on the minerals of Mt. Mica. Each member is requested to bring an unusual mineral specimen from this location. Each guest at this meeting will receive a mineral specimen. The public is invited to attend. The club advises that it meets on the fourth Thursday of each month at the Dr. Moses Mason House. If you have an interest in rocks and minerals and would be interested in starting a collection or learning how to create useful and decorative items from them, you are invited to attend.

Local educators attend literacy links conference

Joyce Morgan, Jean McGuire, Barbara Sabin, and Roger Sabin of Andover Elementary School and Melanie Ellsworth, Shirley Seames, Kathy Conrad, and Jackie Morin of the Woodstock School attended the Maine Reading Association Conference in Orono recently.

The conference, entitled, "Literacy Links" featured keynote Dr. Judith Newman of the Department of Education at Halifax's Mount Saint Vincent University. Dr. Newman, well-known for her work with using computers for literacy development, has produced five videotapes on reading and has published two books, The Craft of Children's Writing and Whole Language: Theory in Use.

These SAD #4 teachers joined over 1,000 educators from across the state to attend the keynote address, training workshop sessions and lunch with well-known authors. Workshop participants learned the latest teaching techniques for enhancing students' reading and writing.

The chamber urges all to stay abreast of the issue and to write to our representatives and senators in Augusta to voice your opinion on the issue. Chemical dependency workshop a success

On Thursday and Friday, Oct. 8 and 9, all SAD #44 personnel attended a Chemical Dependency Workshop at Telstar Regional High School provided by the Department of Educational and Cultural Services, Division of Alcohol and Drug Education Services. Division personnel Bill Lowenstein and Judy Redding provided a basic understanding of the disease concept of chemical dependency, its progression and effects on the family, as well as looking at treatment and early prevention.

Throughout the two days, the participants were able to assemble in small groups to discuss and process issues of substance abuse, adolescent dependency, Maine highway and safety issues, and concerns within the school district.

At the conclusion of the two-day session, a panel of participants presented to the entire group feedback relating to the issues and concerns voiced within their small groups.

"It was an informative and very productive two days for our district," states Louise Chapman, health/substance abuse coordinator. "We are definitely on the road to seeing a comprehensive (kindergarten-grade 12) chemical dependency prevention program, starting with education and awareness district wide."

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Randy Wilson sends our sincere and heartfelt thank you to all relatives and friends for the loving support to us in this time of grief. The many cards, phone calls, flowers and other expressions of love and support are most gratefully appreciated by us. One day at a time we have had the strength to accept life on life's terms with the help of a loving God, relatives, friends. A special thank you to our uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. My Friend I sovi died.
I don't understand you, God.
I don't understand your timetable where the living dead live on and long to die and one so young so filled with life and love is gone

I have to deal with sorrow in my own way.
From the crest of a skier's hill, I need to reach the pain
outlast the tears
rush past the anger and the loss—but the speed of grief transcends my need and leaves me spent and lonely still.

Now on this frozen, silent hill,
I lay my grief before you to be healed.
Lord, I can find no answers, help me to find acceptance.

Though the pain remains,
let the new day begin for me without bitterness.

Stecher & Horowitz appearing at Rumford Sunday, Oct. 25

The Rumford Community Concert Association will be presenting Stecher & Horowitz, duo-pianists to its members on Sunday, Oct. 25. The concert will be held at the Muskies Auditorium, Rumford High School, at 3 p.m., not at the usual time.

One of the leading duo-piano teams in the world today, Melvin Stecher and Norman Horowitz appear in more than 70 cities annually. The internationally acclaimed duo-pianists have been responsible for creating a major revival of interest in the two-piano concert. During the past three decades, they have performed a remarkable variety of new music and traditional masterpieces for discerning musical audiences. Travelling with two Steinway concert grands, they have performed with overwhelming success both in recital and as soloists with orchestras, evoking lavish praise from critics and audiences throughout the United States, Canada, Central and South America, Europe, Israel, Japan and Australia.

The distinguished American composer Walter Piston, wrote his Concerto for Two Pianos especially for Stecher and Horowitz, who premiered the work at the Dartmouth Congregation of the Arts in 1964. Subsequently the artists performed the concerto in many American cities, including the Chicago premier in 1974 with the Milwaukee Symphony.

Notes from the Woodstock Historical Society

Here is a description of the policies of Cardinal de Richelieu—

"He believed that all the useful activities of Men could be furthered and made more fruitful by a strong state and an intelligent use of power. His ultimate goal had a generous grandeur: he wanted to see France powerful and prosperous, great in all the creative arts, leading and dominating a pacified Europe."

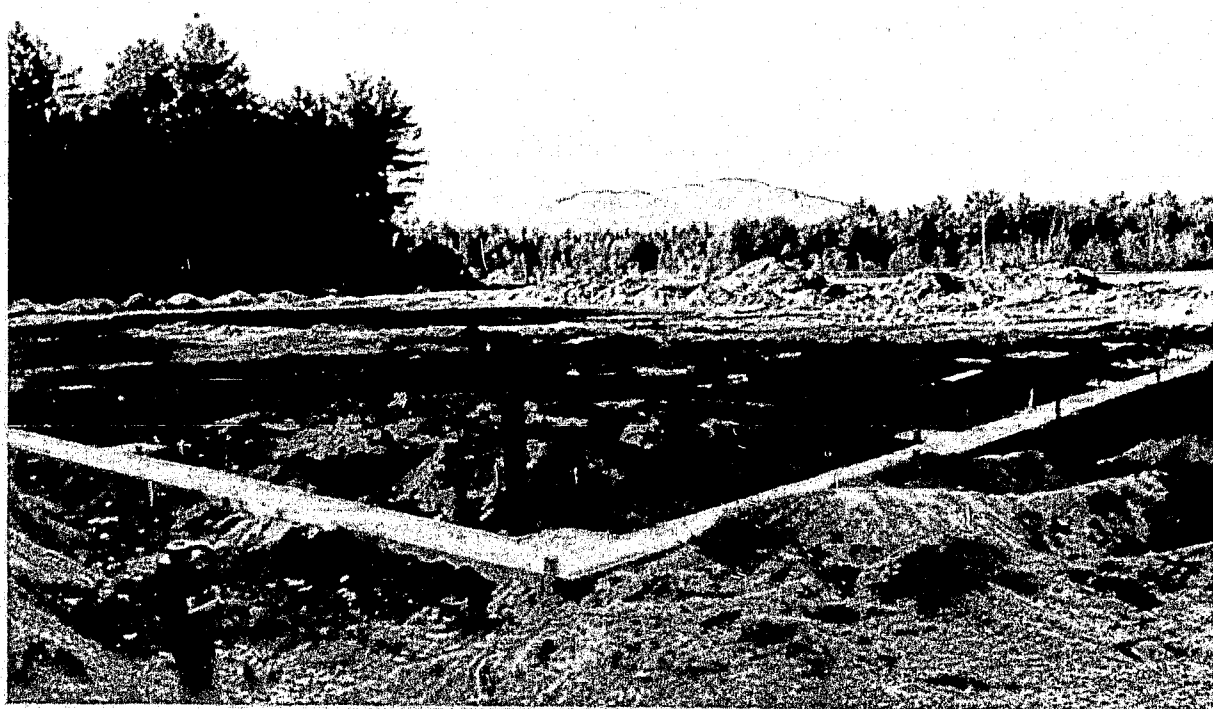

Larry Billings is once again curator of the Society. Louisa Noyes is assistant curator. The chairman of the board of trustees is Ray Burnham, and the vice-chairman is Louisa Noyes.

The following donations came in this past month: a yarn winder from Ruby Emery, a water pump from Earle Noyes, and a silhouette from Larry Billings.

We trust the coming year will be an active and productive one for the Society, and we invite anyone in the area to attend our meetings and participate in our activities.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Carl Mahoney in his passing. Arnold Coffin has returned to his home after spending four weeks at Stephens Memorial Hospital. He has a C.N.A. caring for him in the day time and his sister Doris Lawrence stays at night.

There was a deer/car accident Oct. 12 at 3:30 p.m. by Fred Oja's house when a large doe jumped into the side of the Sun driver's car breaking radiator and air conditioning grills and doing a total of $1,000 damage and the large doe got up and walked away. Many people looked around for the deer.

Callers at Lawrences were: Joe Kalinowski, Jeanne Millet, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parley Sr., Barbara Knightly, Mr. and Mrs. Odell Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Roger LaCroix, Joe Vatcher.

Robert Anderson, Burlington, Mass., and Mike Fucarle, Woburn, Mass., came to Vatchers Wednesday and Thursday. They got three rabbits and one bird.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher went to Swampscott and Lynn, Mass., Friday.

Malvern Wilson, Lincoln, was visiting relatives in the area recently as were his parents, Evans and Gladys Wilson, of Orono.

Irene Wilson's company this past week have been: Stan Wilson, Edith Deegan, Sandy and Seth Wilson, Evelyn Kimball, Gloria Wilson and Travis Buck.

Rita Wilson was in Lewiston, Friday. Harry Gorham, Westbrook, and Ernest Lee, Littleton, were callers at Joe and Muriel Gilberts.

Nathan Moore stayed overnight at Casey Parkers; and Jennie Moore's friend Mindy Hale spent the night with her.

Mare Moore's parents, Harry and Bernice Moore, were up from Goshen, Conn., for the long weekend. At the ocean on Saturday they all enjoyed the brisk sea air along the nearly deserted beach and a seafood dinner cooked in the travel home, eaten outside at a picnic table.

Irene Wilson heard the flock of honking geese around five o'clock Friday evening as they flew west toward Songo Pond where they probably set down for a rest.

Helen Varner Judkins and her husband, Paul, are taking the same adult education class I am. They are living in Dixfield she told us. So many students have been through her classroom that it is amazing that she recognized them years later and can call them by name. It is good to see her looking so well.

Rotary Club notes

Marcel Girardeau, district governor of Rotary District #779, was the guest of honor at Tuesday's Bethel Rotary Club meeting, held at Martha's Restaurant. Mr. Girardeau, of Grand Mere, Quebec, was visiting clubs in Maine. (The district encompasses 68 clubs on both sides of the national boundary.)

Mr. Girardeau stressed to the membership that the essence of Rotary is "Service above Self." He pointed out some significant service projects being carried out by Rotary International, specifically the effort to eradicate polio in Turkey (where hundreds of children succumb to the disease weekly) as well as throughout the world, and the effort to set up nearly 200 fish farms in food-scarce Bangladesh.

He was impressed by the local club's service projects, particularly the club's willingness to support—through fund-raising—the international drive to eradicate polio, and the tremendous effort being put into the project of a youth exchange between Bethel and Mijas, Spain.

He was also delighted to surprise that the local Rotary Club helps present A Living Nativity tableau each Christmas. On the question of inviting women to join Rotary, which was mandated by the court order for American clubs, the district governor said there are already about 35 women members in district clubs.

Mr. Girardeau's links with the Bethel club go way back—to 1974 when the club

90th anniversary

celebrated at West Bethel Church

On Sunday, Oct. 18, members and friends of the West Bethel Union Church gathered to celebrate the 90th anniversary of the erection of the building.

Over 135 people attended the worship service which was conducted by The Rev. Norman F. Rust, minister. Mrs. Nesta Gordon Littlefield was the organist. Special music was provided by Jane Head, who sang a solo, by Donald and Beverly Chase who sang duets accompanied by the guitar, and a solo by Rev. Rust.

The Rev. Raymond Bradley, Jr., minister of Riverside Congregational Church, Riverside, R.I., gave the sermon, "To Live by Faith." Rev. Bradley was student pastor of the church during the summers of 1955 and 1956.

Following the service the Ladies Chapel Aid Society served a ham dinner to more than 115 guests. The anniversary cake was made by Arlene Bean of West Bethel.

Letters were read from the Rev. Orin Manifold (1899-1940) of North Manchester, Ind.; The Rev. Donald Fife (1941-1942) of Des Moines, Wash.; The Rev. David Samuelson (1980) Vista, Calif. The Rev. Otto Sommer, Conference Minister of the Maine Conference of the Maine Conference of the United Church of Christ, sent greetings from Bar Harbor, where the Conference was gathered for its annual meeting.

Clarence "Johnny" Rolfe of West Bethel received a floral bouquet from the Chapel Aid; he has been an active member since 1923.

The oldest living non-active member, Miss Alice Munde of Worcester, Mass., was unable to be in attendance. She joined in 1914.

Greetings from the Bethel Board of Selectmen and the Town Manager were read.

Flowers were given to those members present and who have been active in the church from 1926-1942.

Several members shared reminiscences of the life of the church during the early part of this century.

Church members and friends are looking forward to celebrating its 100th year in 1997.

Gould to host MAISAD soccer tourney Nov. 8

On Sunday, Nov. 8, Gould Academy will host a M.A.I.S.A.D. (Maine Association of Independent Schools Athletic Directors) post season soccer tournament. The Independent League includes Gould Academy, Hebron Academy, Berwick Academy, Kents Hill School, Oak Grove-Coburn, Hyde School, and Waynflete School. A similar tournament for M.A.I.S.A.D. women's soccer teams will be hosted by Hebron Academy on the same day.

West Paris Hunter's Club

Deer hunters in the West Paris area are invited to sign up for the 28th annual West Paris Hunter's Club, culminating with the annual supper that is always held on the Friday evening following the close of the deer hunting season, which this year will be Dec. 4.

Hunters eligible to join must be from West Paris or have a West Paris mailing address. Previous members may still continue to join the club each year, even though they may no longer meet the above requirements.

Highlights of the rules are as follows: the respective Hunter's Club teams are the "Producers" and the "Poker Hunters," and are chosen by team captains from those members joining the club each year. Members who register the biggest buck and biggest doe serve as team captains for the annual supper. In the event no doe is registered, the hunter getting the smallest buck becomes a team captain.

It is the responsibility of the team captains to plan the supper and program and obtain prizes to be awarded for the biggest buck and doe, and smallest deer (by weight).

The winning team is determined by the total weight of deer from each respective team, and all deer entered must be weighed on scales.

Members of the losing team are solicited for food for the supper, assist in setting up tables, preparation of the meal, and serve as waiters. Members who do not register a deer must serve as dish washers and work on the clean-up detail. Hunters must join prior to the first day of deer hunting season to be eligible to have their deer's weight recorded for their respective team.

Hunters may sign up at Trap Corner Store and Whitman's Market. The registration fee is $5 and the funds are used

Weathersticks again 'hit' at Springfield's Big E

Maine Woodsmen's Weathersticks proved popular again this year at the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce booth at the Eastern States Exposition in Springfield, Mass. By selling over 1,700 of the rustic weather predictors, the Chamber was able to pay all the expenses of its 10 day promotional effort.

The Weathersticks are a locally produced, locally distilled craft product known and loved throughout the world. Steve Wright, owner of Sunday River Inn in Newry, has been producing and marketing weathersticks since 1972. He and his band of "elves" annually manufacture 10 to 15 thousand of the sticks and sell them to craft shops and individuals in nearly every state in the U.S. and most countries in Europe. The largest user of weathersticks is Maine Lane Products of Bethel owned by Rick and Ellen Whitney. Rick has depicted the sticks and has established markets with gift shops and mail sales ponds. His packaging was the key to the Chamber's decision to market the sticks at the Big E.

This summer Sunday River Inn employees Ben Richard and Paige Christie worked full time preparing the annual supply of sticks while the sap was running in the balsam firs. Other "elves" who have been recent major producers of sticks are Honey Bailey, James "Chipp" Tuttle, Roger Smith, and Jan Speth.

No one is certain of the origin of the Weathersticks, though legend has it they were often used by wigwag-warriors gifts by Abenaki Indians. Steve Wright claims that, while the sticks are birchbark of balsam fir trees, the particular manner in which they are harvested seems to have a marked effect on their performance. Rumor has it that Wright and his elves do their harvesting during the full of the moon while wearing porcupine skin mooncloaks.

Teachers group opposes Maine Yankee

Teachers from four Maine counties have formed a committee to oppose Maine Yankee in the Nov. 3 nuclear referendum vote. Teachers from Somerset, Oxford, Franklin and Androscoggin counties have formed Teachers for a Safe Future, an organization which intends to endorse a "no" vote and work to help the Maine Nuclear Referendum Committee with this fall's ballot.

"If Maine Yankee has its way 'low level' nuclear waste dump within the state. The children and grandchildren and grandchildren of those voters are the ones who will have to deal with the problem this dump will create," states

Teachers for a Safe Future spokesperson Paula Swenson. "It's ridiculous to build a nuclear waste dump in Maine. These dumps leak, they are expensive and dangerous. What right do we have to burden future generations with a very serious 500 year problem, just to save a few dollars on our power bills?"

The group also feels that there is a very definite connection between the nuclear referendum and the Department of Energy's plan to build a "high level" nuclear waste dump in Maine. "Of course the D.O.E. will be watching the outcome of the referendum. If the 'no' wins they know they will be in for a long hard fight in building their dumpsite," said Mrs. Swenson.

The organization will make a formal statement on their position next week. Similar teachers groups are rapidly forming all over the state and many are expected to come forth to endorse the "no" vote next week. For more information on T.F.S.F. call 662-2203.

CONFERENCE TO FOCUS ON ISSUES OF CONCERN TO AREA COMMUNITIES

The Citizens Community Conference to be held at the Bethel Inn Conference Center Friday, Oct. 30 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., is expected to focus on a number of issues critical to all SAD #4 areas towns, according to the Conference planning committee.

Early registrants for the free, day-long event have indicated that affordable housing, growth and land use, and maintaining a sense of small town character are things that concern them most.

The process to be used by Eni Schindler-Hainmann, who will facilitate the conference, will allow those present to determine the issues of highest priority for the day's agenda.

At the Planning Committee's regular meeting last Wednesday at the Bethel Town Office, Eni Newell announced that Sunday River Skiway had joined the list of Conference donors. "The generous support of businesses and organizations has made it possible to offer this unique experience to citizens of the area at no charge," she said.

The activities of the Planning Committee are primarily contacting individuals and community groups to urge their participation in the event. Flyers have been mailed to many groups and individuals.

To register for the conference, one may call the SAD #4 Adult and Community Education office, 662-5700, or mail in the registration form on the flyer.
